

PRESENTER PROFILE

Professor Andrew Stewart University of Adelaide

Andrew Stewart is the John Bray Professor of Law at the University of Adelaide, a consultant to the national law firm Piper Alderman and President of the Australian Labour Law Association.

One of Australia's leading experts in employment law and workplace relations, he assisted the federal government with the drafting and structure of the Fair Work legislation.

His recent work has included a major report on unpaid work experience, commissioned by the Fair Work Ombudsman, and research on pay equity regulation for the Fair Work Commission.

Andrew's many publications include Stewart's Guide to Employment Law, now in its fourth edition from Federation Press, and Multinational Human Resource Management and the Law, published by Edward Elgar and co-authored with a group of distinguished scholars led by Matt Finkin and Joel Cutcher-Gershenfeld.

